

Creative Painting Tuition & Workshops with Visual Artist & Tutor Sue Graham

I am a visual artist who works with watercolours, acrylics, mixed media and outdoor paints from Wildwood Gallery, Waitahanui, Taupō. I exhibit in various art awards, and exhibitions and specialize in commissions. I also simply adore teaching painting techniques to enable people to express themselves confidently through paint!

- Private Tuition

- for one on one, at Wildwood Gallery @ $70 per hour
- for 2 people @ $80 per hour (total)
- [+ $10 - $15 p.p. to also include basic materials]

- Group Workshops (here for 3 - 5 people)

- @ $70 per person for a 3 hour workshop
- [+ $10 - $15 p.p. if you'd like basic materials provided]

- Groups (6 -14 people) at your own venue @ $100 per hour, plus travel expenses.

- If you also wish me to provide the materials, there will be additional charges for consumables, use of equipment and also prep time for all of that. Many art groups take advantage of funding from Creative Communities or other agencies to enable them to offer these art programmes to their painters.

- Suggested Sessions/Duration: 2 hours minimum for groups - full day recommended

Art Tuition Details

I provide a workshop poster, supply lists, handouts, charts, examples, photo images or still life resources and my famous “borrowing baskets” of equipment to borrow. Hire of basic art materials (student paint, paper) can be booked in advance. My method of teaching is to demonstrate everything, including a warm-up exercise to introduce new skills, try useful techniques and rev up the creative process, followed by the full sequence of painting a picture, from planning then working through each stage to completion. Individual help is also always provided.
